

Chain of Responsibility

Level 1

TLIF0009: Ensure the safety of transport activities (Chain of Responsibility)

Unit Overview

The TLIF0009 unit of competency provides learners with the skills and knowledge required to ensure the safety of transport activities, including identifying features and applying CoR obligations of the HVNL and identifying and reporting CoR hazards and risks.

Who Should Complete This Course?

CoR legislation extends responsibilities to anyone whose actions, inactions or demands can put driver's lives or other lives at risk. Any party who has control in the transport chain can be held responsible and may be legally liable. If you are a transport operator, scheduler, loading manager, packer, loader, driver, consignor or consignee, you should complete this course.

Course Overview

This course has no prerequisites and the target learners are anyone in the chain of responsibility. The training is delivered either online, remote classroom or face-to-face and includes 6 short modules and 4 assessment activities, (a combination of online and workplace-based, practical tasks).

The focus of this course is on:

- ✓ Explaining the Chain of Responsibility legislation;
- ✓ Explaining the importance of safe load restraint, appropriate load mass and dimension, and prevention of driver fatigue and speeding;
- ✓ Identifying key responsibilities, requirements and actions for load restraint, load mass and dimension, driver fatigue and driver speeding; and
- ✓ Taking action if you observe a potential or actual breach of the Chain of Responsibility.
